

Joanie Leeds

After performing with her band The Nightlights for 10 years, multi-award winning singer/songwriter Joanie Leeds has joyfully returned to her roots writing and performing folk songs for her 9th children's female empowerment album, All The Ladies. The inspiration for her latest work came from her life as an outspoken artist and as a single mother raising a daughter. The messaging on All The Ladies is personal and deep. As a whole, it's a love letter to being a mother, a provocative look back at her own experiences and a close observation of what she witnesses happening all around her. The powerful and truthful messaging by the singer-songwriter reminds listeners to be bold, be true and to stay united while lifting each other up.

Produced by Grammy award winner Lucy Kalantari, All The Ladies follows International Women's Day and comes in the same year as the 100th anniversary of the ratification of the 19th amendment, which granted women the right to vote in 1920. In the predominately male music industry and in the spirit of lifting up women in music, Leeds ensured that 99% of those involved with All The Ladies are female; producers, engineers, instrumentalists, guest vocalists, mixing engineer, master engineer, graphic artists, even her photographer and publicist.
